Package L The Home Funeral.....$3,295.00

Home funerals were the only option people had until the early twentieth century when funeral homes became common. The home funeral can be a very healing, intimate experience where the deceased’s life can be celebrated in their home or the home of a loved one. We are proud to offer this very special option to our families. Please note that there are some basic requirements for home funerals, especially if the deceased will be presented in a casket. There must be ample door width to allow the casket to enter the home safely and there must be adequate space in the room to allow for a casket bier and casket to be safely arranged. Details will be discussed at the arrangement conference.

This package includes the basic services of the funeral director and staff, removal of the deceased from the place of death and transfer to the funeral home for preparation of the remains including embalming, other preparation and casketing, making necessary arrangements for cremation or burial, filing the death certificate, securing necessary permits and authorizations, transfer of the decedent to the home and setting up the area of the home for the visitation and/or memorial service, transfer to the church and/or cemetery, use of the hearse, lead car and graveside service.
